

Vampires In The Attic

Joseph Eidson
(2011)

Duration: 3 minutes

Program Notes

Vampires in the Attic is a creepy and energetic work for young band that emphasizes musicality and ensemble playing with each instrument being an integral part of the work as a whole. The work begins with slow music that sets the creepy atmosphere as the dark recesses of the attic are explored, featuring solos by the flute and baritone. The trumpet section is featured in the fast music beginning at measure 16 as the vampires are chased around the attic, with a lyrical interlude played by the woodwinds at measure 22. The low winds are featured at measure 57 with a slower statement of the main melody before returning to the opening tempo. After the chase ends, the vampires return to their hiding spots as the opening material is revisited before the end of the work.
